We have been waiting for "the process" for a very long time. I don't expect any decision to be made lightly. We have been through every possible hurdle over the past 4 years to prove ourselves to the DOI, so I am trying to be understanding and am hoping that this will come to fruition before we lose any more of our elders. I also hope that you can see our side, and understand that we have been patient in our pursuit of recognition.

Respectfully

We are going to have a meeting this week but these decisions may take some time. If the meeting takes place this week, decision will need to be drafted and vetted through our internal process. Unfortunately, there are no specific timelines but we are working to get it done as soon as possible. We are working on this case and any decisions will not be made lightly.

Thanks
